The experiment-the first of its kind ever attempted as part of a case against an accused-was not made until after a long wrangle between the lawyers. Over a dozen per-sons were called, and each pressed his fingers against a cake of dried ink and then against a sheet of paper. Each set of prints was marked for identification, and then Lieut Faurot was called inte the court room and asked to compare these prints with others made by the same individuals in his presence and to find those they had made in his absence. The other section of the experiment was the reproduction of the finger-prints on the rame pane of glass where the prints leading to Crispi's arrest were found. This alleged conversation over the long distance telephone with Mrs. Emma F. Sully, wife of the former Cotton King," on the New York end, and Peter H. Corr, a millionaire cotton manufacturer, at Philadelphia on the other and on March 24, 1994, was the basis of a suit before Justice Amend and a fury in the 3 spreme Court to-day, in which Corr seeks judgment against Mrs. Sully for a loan of $30,000 with interest, in all $25,536,64

Daniel J. Sully, smiling and imperturable, gave a widely different ver-sion of the 120,000 transaction when he was called in his wife's defense. He declared that Corr voluntarily gave him the $30,000 to enable him to engage Law yers Junkin and Dos Passon to defend him in a Tpresumed indictment being arranged by District-Attorney Jerome. on the ground that Sully was "a com mon gambler." The $20,000 and $10,000 more were turned over to the lawyers two days later, Sully maintained. Heard of Indictment.

"Col. Corr and I had many transac tions in the cotton market," testilled Sully. "After I assigned and turned over to the receiver every asset I could lay my hands on-about $600,000 worth all told-Col. Corr telephoned to my home on March 24 and said he wanted to see me. I invited him to the house He had his personal councel, Junkin. 'Col. Corr told me he had heard that the District-Attorney was preparing to indict me. I wondered at that. But hes imbued me with the idea and said I ought to have experienced and able ounsel to protect me. He and Junkin went away and returned late in the troubles in the event of an indictment would be insurmountable. To engage him and Dos Passos, whom he said was the leading man at the bar, would cost me $30,000. I told him I had given my receivers everything. Junkin told me most foolish thing I ever did. Then

Col. Corr spoke up and said: 'Dan, we've been pretty good friends all our lives. I'll advance you $29,000 to get out of this mess, if that'll be of any guess, and go ahead."

"Then came the question of making out the checks. I told Col. Corr I could not well appear in the transaction, as I was insolvent. I then suggested the name of Mr. Potter, who was a reputabel furniture merchant, and he agreed to make them out to Potter. Mr. Potter was furnishing my home. I gave him

Briefly, Corr testified that he took the first train to New York following the telephone conversation with a lawyer friend named Junkin, went to the Sully's magnificent home on East Sixtythird street, just off Fifth avenue, met Mrs. Sully and her husband in the library and said, according to his testimory:

URICSOL—THE CONQUEROR OF RHEUMATISM

You still have Uricsol, the practical certainty of CURE, and the absolute certainty of material and lasting benefit to fall back on.

Uricsol is not a cureall. Its special field is rheumatic diseases, and it cures them by removing the cause.

Everybody nowadays knows that rheumatism is caused by an excess of Uric Acid in the blood. Local applications may relieve, but they cannot possibly get at the seat of the disease. Uricsol is just what its name implies, a solvent and eliminator of Uric Acid.

Uriesoi not only cures the common forms of rheumatism, but it does what no other remedy has before accomplished:

It Dissolves and Eliminates Deposits in the Joints.

Where They Have Been Accumulating for Years

Records are in our possession of not one but many cases where the joints of the fingers were so thickened as to be practically useless; where the hip or the knee joints were so filled with the deposits as to render the victim wholly unable to walk; yet the patients were completely restored to health and activity by the systematic use of Uricsol.

In this way Uricsol has been a genuine RENEWER OF YOUTH!

We can truthfully claim the remarkable record of 90 per cent. of cures where a proper opportunity is given our remedy to accomplish the result.

We will gladly supply testimonials. Write for folder.

It was seven days after the collapse of the cotton market, and with Sully's misforunes, Mrs. Sully, it was stated, was threatened with the loss of her

Mrs. Sully told Corr. he swore, that she would be unable to cash any checks made to her personally and asked him to make out two checks in favor of Frank A. Potter, a friend of the Sullys. This Corr willingly did and turned the checks over to Mrs. only, he testified.
